Tallai Glades Nursing Home is an example of the new deinstitutionalised style of aged care facilities.

Designer Margaret Butler-Nixon from Craig Interiors was drawn to the Texline range when researching flooring solutions. "I always try to create a homely atmosphere and a traditional, narrow timber design just would not have had the impact I was looking for in the dining room."

"I used Gerflor in terracotta colour to create a warm and inviting atmosphere in the dementia lounge and Texline Pro mink cementum cream in the bedrooms. I used different products to achieve different effects throughout the facility," Margret said.
